

Life in the Future

Technology changes and adapts at an amazing rate - there are so many exciting and innovative new possibilities that are coming to life every day. Just think, twenty years ago we didn't even have smartphones! What will life be like twenty years in the future? Use the prompts below to help you to write a diary entry of a day in your life in twenty years' time, thinking about all the different technologies you might use and how they might help you. Make sure that you have watched the Tech We Can video lesson on Tech for the Future (Part 2) before you start.
